As Mumbai welcomes the pleasantly cool and festive month of December this year, we at the Bombay Orthopaedic Society are fully geared to welcome you to its flagship event of the society, the academic diamond, WIROC 23 - The Classique.

We are creating a veritable academic feast, where you will be treated to the best and the brightest of current orthopaedic practice.

There will be CME’s, prestigious orations and lectures, debates and workshops. All manner of unbiased academic content will be showcased to meet the need and suit the taste of each delegate.

"Brevis Longus Magnus" is our theme.

As part of this eclectic endeavour issues addressed will span the spectrum from the "routine" to the "cutting edge" to the bulk of the "state-of-the-art work".

We have planned a resplendent exhibition of scientific content mixed with entertainment, social networking and enterprise. The thematic talks, plenary sessions, workshops, innovative techniques, poster and papers presentations will drive you through the multi-sectoral aspects of the orthopaedic world. Mesmerising entertainment programs will make your evenings memorable.

We invite you and your family to this wonderful gathering and we ensure that you will go back with rich information and as a proud stakeholder of the orthopaedic world.

It is only your enthusiasm which motivates and energises us to move across the gamut of "Brevis Longus Magnus", creating a new benchmark for this conference of international repute.
President’s Message

Dear Delegates,

You have a copy of the WIROC Classique issue of the Journal of Clinical Orthopaedics in your hand and true to the theme of WIROC Classique, it has a variety of articles from all aspects of Orthopaedics.

We have received some excellent original articles and reports this year which are a fantastic read specially on financial aspects affecting orthopaedic surgeons. Dr Sachin Kale was the guest editor for this issue and has done a wonderful job in organizing the articles and getting the best reviews articles on the topics.

On behalf of the Bombay Orthopaedic Society and the editorial team of the Journal of Clinical Orthopaedics, I would like to thank all the authors and reviewers for their support. I would also extend a request and invitation for all BOS Members to submit more articles and cases to BOS Journal and share their experience and knowledge with all of us.

Dr Sanjay Dhar
President
Bombay Orthopaedic Society

Secretary’s Message

Dear Delegates,

It is with great pleasure that I extend a warm welcome to you in this latest edition of the Journal of Clinical Orthopaedic, the esteemed official publication of the Bombay Orthopaedic Society. As we embark on our eighth year, it is a point of pride to acknowledge that our journal has consistently published issues without fail, year after year. This regularity and timeliness stand as a testament to the journal’s robustness and commitment to excellence.

The Journal of Clinical Orthopaedic has been a steadfast pillar for the Bombay Orthopaedic Society members, offering a valuable platform for the dissemination of articles. Its online presence has significantly broadened our reach, allowing us to share and expand our collective knowledge on a global scale.

I would like to extend my heartfelt congratulations to the editorial team, and especially to Dr. Nicholas Antao, our editor, for his relentless dedication and hard work. I would also like to thank the guest editor Dr Sachin Kale for his tremendous work on this issue of the Journal.

I thank all the BOS Members for continued support and engagement with the Journal of Clinical Orthopaedic.

Dr Neeraj Bijlani
Secretary
Bombay Orthopaedic Society
